1. Application of the field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to he north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost continuously highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies, elevator.		Approved For Release 200	55/55/12 . SIA-RD		0200400010-1
DATE OF INFO. SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO 1. CARCULATE NO. OF ENCLS SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO 1. CARCULATE SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO 2. The return long tens with the count that southeast of the field. The field had a great source, I concrete runway was not observed; but and was commenced by a read with the comment class to the field was not commenced by a read with the comment class to the field. The field had a great associated as a suprement had supplement to the return of th	AUNTRY
DATE OF INFO. SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO 1. CARCULATE NO. OF ENCLS SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO 1. CARCULATE SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO 2. The return long tens with the count that southeast of the field. The field had a great source, I concrete runway was not observed; but and was commenced by a read with the comment class to the field was not commenced by a read with the comment class to the field. The field had a great associated as a suprement had supplement to the return of th
25X1 1. C. Del reture long from morth to scuth and 2,000 meters in length from each to west. The field had a spur track coming from the scuth and was commenced by a read with the coment (land southeast of the field, The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hagars or permanent hordstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high ratio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to lh single-seator, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, shout 100 meters west of a highway peralleling the Drina River. The planes had an ir thake in the mose and en air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assomblies, elevator assomblies as trather high, and they were fitted with hose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the leaded toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about a time of the field. 25X1 26X1 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X3 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X7	and the Charles
25X1 1. C. Del reture long from morth to scuth and 2,000 meters in length from each to west. The field had a spur track coming from the scuth and was commenced by a read with the coment (land southeast of the field, The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hagars or permanent hordstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high ratio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to lh single-seator, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, shout 100 meters west of a highway peralleling the Drina River. The planes had an ir thake in the mose and en air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assomblies, elevator assomblies as trather high, and they were fitted with hose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the leaded toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about a time of the field. 25X1 26X1 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X3 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X7		·		TE!
25X1 1. C. Del reture long from morth to scuth and 2,000 meters in length from each to west. The field had a spur track coming from the scuth and was commenced by a read with the coment (land southeast of the field, The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hagars or permanent hordstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high ratio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to lh single-seator, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, shout 100 meters west of a highway peralleling the Drina River. The planes had an ir thake in the mose and en air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assomblies, elevator assomblies as trather high, and they were fitted with hose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the leaded toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about a time of the field. 25X1 26X1 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X3 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X7			1290-	JLAIL	NO OF ENCLS
25X1 1. C. Del reture long from morth to scuth and 2,000 meters in length from each to west. The field had a spur track coming from the scuth and was commenced by a read with the coment (land southeast of the field, The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hagars or permanent hordstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high ratio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to lh single-seator, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, shout 100 meters west of a highway peralleling the Drina River. The planes had an ir thake in the mose and en air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assomblies, elevator assomblies as trather high, and they were fitted with hose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the leaded toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about a time of the field. 25X1 26X1 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X2 26X3 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X4 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X6 26X7 26X7			"OT CINO
25X1 1.		_	Mo.
2,500 reters long from north to scuth and 2,000 meters in length from east to west. The field had a spur track coming from the south and was connected by a read with the cement clant southeast of the field. The field had a grass cover. I concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or ermanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-scater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina diver. The planes had an air intake in the nose and are air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wines. The jet fighters were murried by foriet sentries. About 10 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the saced toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 secreds	C. J.C. ST AND SE.AS OF HIS CONVENIES IN A RESIDED OF LAW SEPI	Denote the desiting of the editionage act animage). Our transmission of the revelat by manner to an unauteonized person is p reduction of kind form is prohibited.	TION CO	. · ·
2,500 reters long from north to south and 2,000 meters in length from east to west. The field had a spur track coming from the south and was connected by a read with the cement flant southeast of the field. The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the wiew of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or rermanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuouslesseen ranked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralloling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the cutwand third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently picton engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 26X1 The jet planes almost always tork off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at another lights. Other lights were not converved at the field. At night, nost of the relates approached the field forcette.
2,500 reters long from north to south and 2,000 meters in length from east to west. The field had a spur track coming from the south and was connected by a read with the cement clant southeast of the field. The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the wiew of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or rermanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen parked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralloling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently picton engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 25X1 The jet planes almost always tork off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then creased the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at another lights. Other lights were not conserved at the field. At night, nost of the relates approached the field from the continuously participated in hight, nost of the relates approached the field from the continuously participated in hight.						0.5
2,500 reters long from north to south and 2,000 meters in length from east to west. The field had a spur track coming from the south and was connected by a read with the cement flant southeast of the field. The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the wiew of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or permanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuouslessen parked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the cutwand third of the wines. The jet fighters apparently picton engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 26X1 26X1 26X1 The jet planes almost all titude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great all titude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at another lights. Other lights were not converved at the field. At night, nost of the relates approached the field force the field.	1			المالية المالية
connected by a read with the coment clant southeast of the field. The field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the view of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or permanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost continuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were marked by foviet sentries. About 10 aircraft of various types, argamently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 The jet planes almost the field of seconds for the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not covered at the field. At night, nost of the rlange approached the field forcred at the field.			Jurga-opitve (20~24N, 22~UE	山) airfield was d	eat field had a grass cover. A concrete runway was not observed; however, the wiew of the installation was obstructed. Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangers or permanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost continuousl seen ranked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator auxiliary fuel tanks in the cutward third of the wines. The jet fighters were cuarded by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 3a The jet planes almost headed toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 secends no 20 July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not coserved at one field. At night, nost of the rlanges approached the field from the field. the view of the installation was characted Aircraft which took off used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or remament hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 1h single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were shoost continuousl seen parked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the winss. The jet fighters were marked by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, arparently piston engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 The jet planes almost the always took off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sen. Two planes would take off at intervals of about headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in fight. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landung lights. Other lights were not converted at the field. At night, nost of the rlanges approached the field from the south and the field at night, nost of the rlanges approached the field from the sea to the field.
used to raise heavy clouds of dust. No hangars or permanent hardstands were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the scuthern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost continuously seen marked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the cutward third of the wings. The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western cortion of the field. 25X1 The jet planes almost western cortion of the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in fight. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not concrete at the field. At night, not of the rlanges approached the field from the sea and repart taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not chooseved at the field. At night, not of the rlanges approached the field from the sea the field.		field had a grass con	rer. A concrete	Tant source	ast of the field. T	he were seen. There seemed to be a taxiway in the southern portion of the installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost continuousl seen rarked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and ar air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters apparently pinton engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 26 The jet planes almost western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea, Two planes would take off at intervals of about altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in fight. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlages approached the field from the field.		the view of the insta	allation reas	between was r	ot observed; howeve	11'9 installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen parked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were muarded by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, argarently miston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western pertian of the field. The jet planes almost western pertian of the field. The jet planes almost so and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously perticipated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlages approached the field from the field.		used to raise heavy	loude of duct	naeructed. Aj	ercrait which took o	Î.
installation. A high radio tower with a red obstacle light on its top was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuousl seen parked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were muarded by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, argarently miston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western pertian of the field. The jet planes almost western pertian of the field. The jet planes almost so and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously perticipated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlages approached the field from the field. was seen at the sea plane base bordering the airfield to the north. 2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost continuously seen marked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were marked by Toviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, argamently miston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sen. Two planes would take off at intervals of about headed toward the sen, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlages approached the field from the field.
2. Ten to 14 single-seater, swept-back jet fighters were almost centinuously seen rarked at the east side of the field, about 100 meters west of a highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. 25X1 The jet planes almost western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about needed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not coserved at the field. At night, nost of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea of the rlanes approached the field from the sea o highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were marked by loviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In Do July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great elititude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at one field. At night, most of the rlanes approached the field from the		and are are	Talle Dase Dord	ering the air	field to the north. highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were marked by loviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In Do July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great elititude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at one field. At night, most of the rlanes approached the field from the	2.	Ten to 1h sincle-seat	or ment had	1-4 02 14
highway paralleling the Dvina River. The planes had an air intake in the nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were marked by loviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In Do July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great elititude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at one field. At night, most of the rlanes approached the field from the		seen rarked at the es	et eide at the	Jet lighters	were almost centin	upusl nose and an air outlet in the rear, swept-back tail assemblies, elevator assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were cuarded by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft, were parked in bigh brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In 30 July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlanes approached the field from the field. At night, assemblies set rather high, and they were fitted with nose wheels and auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were charded by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two planes would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In 30 July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in 11 lying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlanges approached the field from the south appeared to the field from the south of the rlanges approached the field from the south in the field. At night, nost of the rlanges approached the field from the south in the field. auxiliary fuel tanks in the outward third of the wings. The jet fighters were cuarded by foviet sentries. About 40 aircraft of various types, apparently piston engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost always took off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two places would take off at intervals of about 20 seconds on 30 July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field, it night, nost of the rlages approached the field from the second.
25X1 The jet fighters apparently piston engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field The jet planes almost always took off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two places would take off at intervals of about 20 seconds en 30 July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, most of the reases approached the field from the second continuously participated in the field. At night, most of the reases approached the field from the second continuously participated in the field. At night, most of the reases approached the field from the field. apparently piston engine aircraft were parked in high brushwood in the western portion of the field. The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two places would take off at intervals of about 20 seconds needed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not conserved at the field, at night, nost of the rlages approached the field from the sea.
The jet planes almost and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea, Two places would take off at intervals of about headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at landing lights. Other lights were not conserved at the field, at night, most of the rlages approached the field from the field. At night, always took off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two places would take off at intervals of about 20 seconds on 30 July, four aircraft took off in succession, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not conserved at the field, at night, nost of the reases approached the field from the				ere parked in	bigh brushwood in	the always took off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sea. Two places would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds on 30 July, four aircreft took off in succession, headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landumg lights. Other lights were not observed at the field, at night, nost of the reases approached the field from the		noodin gordhon or an	G I JGTC
always took off in a northwesterly direction circled over the field, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and headed toward the sea. Two places would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds on 30 July, four aircreft took off in succession headed toward the sea, and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet ergines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field, at night, most of the reages approached the field from the	3, and then crossed the Dvina River at an altitude of 50 to 200 meters and beaded toward the sen. Two places would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In 30 July, four aircreft took off in succession headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the rlanes approached the field from the second continuous of the field all the field from the second continuous of the field all the field from the field of the field from the field from the field of the field of the field from the field of the fi	25X1				[m headed toward the sen. Two places would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In 30 July, four aircraft took off in succession headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the clanes approached the field from the continuously participated in landing lights.		always tork off in a	northweetent	14:00 0 43	ine jet planes almo	st headed toward the sen. Two places would take off at intervals of about 30 seconds. In 30 July, four aircreft took off in succession headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the rlanes approached the field from the continuously participated in landing lights.		and then crossed the	Dring Divon of	erreceion cir	cred over the field,	• nost of the rlapes approached the field from the rlapes approached the rights were not observed at the rights are not observed at the field. At night, headed toward the sea and returned after about one hour at a great altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the clanes approached the field from the		The state of the s	S THE DITH WAS MC	nuic take off	at intermale of ohe	14.2
altitude from the south, landing at the field within 20 minutes. The jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the clanes approached the field from the content.						on, jet fighters seen at the field almost continuously participated in flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the clanes approached the field from the content.		altitude from the sand flying activities. The noise of flying jet engines was also heard at night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night, nost of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the clanes approached the field from the control of the					thin 20 minutes. The night. It appeared that aircraft taking off or landing at night used landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field, at night, most of the rlages approached the field from the		Ten TTENERLE gbon of 4	" NO T T M ! M - "		ar montingington an landing lights. Other lights were not observed at the field. At night,		flying activities The	the field almos	t continuous!	d Name of Cities and In most of the rlages amproached the field from the field, at night,		flying activities. The	one flere of fler	o continuous flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other	onoise of flyi	ng jet engine ing off or la	es was also heard at anding at night used	•
OSSIVED LYMIT.		flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other	onoise of flyi	ng jet engine ing off or la	es was also heard at anding at night used	t, flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other most of the rlages arm	o noise of flyi at aircraft tak lights were no	ng jet engine ing off or late tobserved at	es was also heard at anding at night used	t, flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other most of the rlages arm	o noise of flyi at aircraft tak lights were no	ng jet engine ing off or late tobserved at	es was also heard at anding at night used	t, flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other most of the rlages arm	o noise of flyi at aircraft tak lights were no	ng jet engine ing off or late tobserved at	es was also heard at anding at night used	t, flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other most of the rlages arm	o noise of flyi at aircraft tak lights were no	ng jet engine ing off or late tobserved at	es was also heard at anding at night used	i, flying activities. The night. It appeared the landing lights. Other most of the rlages arm	o noise of flyi at aircraft tak lights were no	ng jet engine ing off or late tobserved at	es was also heard at anding at night used	t,

Approved For Release 2003/08/12 : CIA-RDP82-00457R016200400010-1